Lenore Feeney and husband, Randy Walsh, Receive the Preservation Award

M. Lenore Feeney, a partner with Taylor Porter, and her husband, Randy Walsh, received the Foundation for Historical Louisiana's Preservation Award.

The Foundation for Historical Louisiana hosted the 34th Preservation Awards dinner on Thursday, July 22 at the Hilton Capitol Center in downtown Baton Rouge. The event honored individuals and entities named as the prestigious 2010 Preservation Award recipients.

Ms. Feeney and Mr. Walsh were honored for their creation of a remarkable series of heritage dramas within Historic Magnolia Cemetery, bringing to life individuals whose struggles, hardships and victories shaped early Baton Rouge.

M. Lenore Feeney's primary areas of practice include labor and employment and education law. Initially, her practice was concentrated in the area of general litigation; however, in 1990, she began working with the Labor and Employment Law group at Taylor Porter. Since then, she has lectured on employment issues and conducted employee training. Ms. Feeney has represented clients before the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as well as the State Civil Service Commission.
